Allies Redeploy New Invasion Moves Seen

GUAM, July 11.—(CP)—New Allied invasion moves against Japan were hinted today by Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of naval forces in the Pacific, revealed redeployment of land-based air power in the Ryukyus "preparatory to further amphibious assaults."

All army air forces based on the Ryukyus have been shifted to the command of Gen. H. H. Arnold, commander of land forces in the Pacific, "incident to regrouping" of American air power for the final pre-invasion assault on Japan.

Previous carrier strike last February was followed by the invasion of two Jima.

Japs Quitting Salient in Southern Kiangsi

By GEORGE WANG
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

CHUNGKING, July 11.—(BUP)—The Chinese Central News Agency reported today that Japanese forces were hurriedly abandoning their entire salient in southern Kiangsi province where they have been clinging to a number of former American air bases since last January.

The high command's communique supported this viewpoint. It said that the Japanese forces, stepping up their offensive against the Chinese line, had captured Hsin-Cheng, a strategic air base, and Nankang, both in Kiangsi province, as well as Chungku, on the Kwei-Lung line, 25 miles north of Luochow in central Kwangsi.

Central News reported Allied planes were adding Chinese ground forces by harassing the Japanese retreat. Kuanhsien, principal Japanese base, had been abandoned.

Hot Debate Seen De Gaulle Plan for Government Sharply Attacked

By ROBERT LLOYD
LONDON, July 11.—(Reuters)—Limitation of the powers of the projected French constituent assembly under the bill adopted by Gen. de Gaulle's provisional government, which was not made explicit in the official communique, have become known through comments in the Paris press, and are likely to be hotly debated when the bill is presented to the consultative assembly.

It appears that under the bill drafted, the chief of the provisional government will be elected by the constituent assembly, but the ministers appointed by him will be responsible solely to him and not to the assembly. Moreover, the constituent assembly will have no legislative initiative and the government's powers to legislate by decree are to be continued through the seven-month period of constitutional drafting. Only the budget, foreign treaties and laws of a "structural" character will require approval by the constituent assembly.

WANTS STABILITY
Gen. de Gaulle is thought to have asked for these limitations as continued on Page 2, Col. 6

Winnipeg Cited as Congested Area

OTTAWA, July 11.—(BUP)—The city of Winnipeg and surrounding municipalities have been designated a "congested area" under the Wartime Prices and Trade Board's new "congested areas" regulations.

An order-in-council, passed on July 4, outlined the congested areas of the city of Winnipeg, the city of St. Boniface, the city of St. James, the city of St. Vital, East Kildonan, West Kildonan and Assiniboia.

Earlier this year, Winnipeg failed to pass a federal act under the emergency shelter regulations by the Feb. 15 deadline which was set by the Prices Board in anticipation of the May 1 moving in of the federal government.

Trial of Petain Starts Next Week
LONDON, July 11.—(Reuters)—The treason trial of Marshal Petain, which was set for the 19th of this month, Paris reported last night.

Shadowed all other issues in the recent Ontario election campaign, the trial of Petain was the first of a series of trials of German officials in the city of Paris.

Asked by Commission Counsel Joseph Weidner if he wished to make a statement, Petain said he would not.

He was written "all the way from Kung" by Premier Drew to M. A. Henderson, Toronto's inside dealer who was involved in a libel action against the Ontario government in the Toronto municipal elections of Jan. 1, 1944. In view of evidence continued on Page 2, Col. 3

Disembark Tonight Queen Mary Docks With 6,200 Canucks

NEW YORK, July 11.—(CP)—The liner Queen Mary, carrying nearly 15,000 troops, including 6,200 Canadians, came into her Hudson river pier shortly before her scheduled noon arrival today.

The great liner, her huge decks thronged with masses of cheering troops, was escorted up the river by two small ships carrying military bands, while floating in the clear, blue sky, was an army blimp.

Crowds, hemmed off by the water front, gathered in the neighborhood streets to cheer the liner, which completed her crossing from Gourock, Scotland, in her usual less than five days.

Newspapers were not allowed aboard ship and officials said they would be about seven o'clock tonight (M.T.) before the first Canadians disembarked.

CANADIANS AID
From the pier it appeared that the Canadians were quartered in the aft section of the ship where they were to remain.

Election Result Worries Traders

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, July 11.—(AP)—Evidence that the London stock exchange is becoming worried over the general election outlook came today when the market weakened in a greatly reduced turnover, though railway and chain store shares were buoyant.

The sentiment may have been affected by the big increase in Labour and Left votes in yesterday's Northern Ireland election.

The sentiment may have been affected by the big increase in Labour and Left votes in yesterday's Northern Ireland election.

Some observers believe that the fate of the Churchill government will be decided by the deferred voting which will take place tomorrow in 24 ridings in Northern England and Scotland. Fourteen of these are straight fights between Conservatives and Liberals. There are two four-cornered and seven tri-cornered contests.

Mrs. C. T. Casselman Named 'Y' Secretary
Mrs. C. T. Casselman, former Liberal member of Parliament for Edmonton East, has been appointed general secretary of the Edmonton YWCA and will take over the position today.

The appointment was made at a special meeting of the YWCA executive members held last Saturday.

She will succeed Mrs. E. K. Wellwood, who has acted as general secretary for 15 years and who resigned her position last week.

MEATLESS DAYS START FRIDAY
OTTAWA, July 11.—(CP)—The Prices Board issued a reminder today that as the first step in a meat conservation program, restaurants, hotels and other eating places should be closed for a couple of days.

The thermometer stood at 44 in Toronto last night, as low a point as has been reached at this time of year since the 45 of 1908 and 40 of 1920.

In Ottawa, F. W. Baker, meteorological observer, said the drop was due to a "massive" cold front that in past years temperatures have always dropped in mid-July for a couple of days.

He attributed it to "one of those queer quakes of weather."

On Freight Lines Premier Urges Joint Action by Provinces

The four western provinces are vitally concerned in any attempt to raise freight rates in Canada and they should unite to strongly oppose any such proposal, Premier Ernest Manning said Wednesday.

Letters voicing the disapproval of his government to any such attempt have been sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and to James A. Cross, chairman of the Board of Transport and Communications.

Referring to recent dispatches to the effect that the Canadian National Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway are proposing to request a steep increase in freight rates through Canada, Premier Manning wrote to Mr. King.

ALBERTA SUFFERS
"I cannot urge too strongly the seriousness of this matter from the standpoint of the Province of Alberta," he wrote.

When proposals were being discussed here recently for procuring housing accommodation and it was suggested that the province of the Klamath military camp be utilized it was then suggested that there is a possibility that the camp be used during the demobilization period.

Local officials are expecting a definite announcement of government policy in the near future.

Spain May Send Germans Home
MADRID, July 11.—(AP)—Well-informed sources said today Allied authorities were drafting a plan to send most German prisoners in Spain, before the end of summer, to their homes.

The plan would affect about 10,000 Germans leading the lives of civilians, reforming former military staff members, as well as several thousand who had been interned in the latter as 1,500 German soldiers who escaped from France in 1944.

The Spaniards have made no official statement of their position on repatriating the Germans but their informants said Allied representatives expected no great difficulty in reaching agreement on a factory solution for the majority of cases.

CALCUTTA, July 11.—(BUP)—Southeast Asia Command revealed today that Japanese forces still hold several villages in the Sittoung river valley of South China, Burma, including Myitko, 12 miles south of Waw.

Allied forces have destroyed an enemy strong point on the railway line between Myitko and Yaw, one of which is the right of citizenship to those who performed military service in the regime during the civil war, including members of the German Condor Legion who fought in France's side.

Capital Under Attack 36th Straight Day

From CP, AP and BUP Dispatches
AAF HEADQUARTERS, GUAM, July 11.—Dazed and nervous residents of Tokyo, climbing out of their cellars and shelters after almost thirty-six hours of round-the-clock bombing from American army and navy planes, were sent scurrying back again early today, as another wave of U.S. fighters and fighter bombers swung in over the coast to commence the 36th straight day of aerial attack against the Japanese home islands. Again no opposition was encountered, and the Japanese air force appears paralyzed.

As the U.S. Third Fleet's powerful Task Force 38 broke off the terrific blitz bombardment of yesterday, a new attack by 150 Mustangs and Thunderbolts of the American Army Air Force roared in to continue the "softening up" operation today.

For over two hours they rained a hail of rocket fire and light bombs on military bases on eastern and southern Kyushu. Airfields in the Miyazaki plain and on the Osumi and Maluma peninsulas in the south were aimed, and enemy planes caught on the ground were destroyed by fire.

City May Be Centre for Demobilization

Possibility of Edmonton being a demobilization centre for the north and northwestern Alberta is being discussed between civic officials and the federal government, it was learned at the Civic Block Wednesday.

Deputy Mayor C. E. Garney, K.C., stated that he had been in contact with Mr. H. J. Macdonald, Minister of trade and commerce, and member of parliament for Edmonton, and had received assurance that Edmonton was being favorably considered as the demobilization centre for Northern Alberta.

When proposals were being discussed here recently for procuring housing accommodation and it was suggested that the province of the Klamath military camp be utilized it was then suggested that there is a possibility that the camp be used during the demobilization period.

Taking Life Easy Churchill Relaxes, Paints in Picturesque Seaport

By LOUIS MEVIN
AT JEAN DE LUZ, July 11.—(AP)—With a soft air felt on his head and a cigar held between his teeth, Prime Minister Churchill relaxed in his favorite seaport town, painting the picturesque little harbor with the Pyrenees range towering in the background.

"I wanted to paint this scene ever since I first saw it 20 years ago," explained Mr. Churchill, who is resting here between his strenuous general election campaign and the Potsdam meeting of the Big Three.

Mr. Churchill is at his ease every afternoon, guarded by his husky platoon of police from Scotland Yard while 30 or more curious Frenchmen watch from 50 feet away.

It is the first time he has been able to indulge in his favorite hobby since he went to Marrakech, French Morocco, in 1940 to recuperate from influenza.

Meanwhile his wife and daughter spend their afternoons on the beach.

The prime minister has been keeping quiet since a rumor of rising at his age as he did in London, he spends his mornings reading London newspapers and mail from his new model Spitfire in the airfield to Bordeaux and relayed there by a smaller plane and then by automobile.

The town is staging a huge reception Thursday night for the child hero. He also has been asked to take a tour of Quebec but no date has been set.

6,200 Canadian Troops Return On Queen Mary

They thronged the rails and peered from balconies.

From two portholes a CWAC private and a tank commander, troops sought to catch chocolate bars tossed aboard by the Canadian policemen. One Canadian caught a carton of ice cream tossed to him and immediately tossed back a German bank note.

Most of the singing and shouting died as the liner was made fast and military policemen, witnesses of many troops' first experience of the "Mary," then he added:

"Of course, there's a lot of Canadian about and there's a lot of Canadian about and there's a lot of Canadian about."

FAR EAST VOLUNTEERS
It was understood that 10 per cent of the Canadians aboard the "Mary" were volunteers for the Far East Force, while slightly more than 600 were liberally recruited from the East and the balance were returning on rotational duty, for health or compassionate reasons, or for duty in Canada.

After the "Mary" docks, disembarking scheduled call for the American troops to leave the vessel first. It was believed this would mean the first time the "Mary" would not be ashore before 7 p.m. EDT.

They were scheduled to continue disembarking until 4 a.m. Thursday. Trains would carry them to various distribution points in Canada.

Here is a table of approximate time (MDT) of train departures and approximate numbers of men for each destination:

Japan Blasted For the 36th Day By Allied Bombs

Every airplane possible will be sent to Japan, in helping servicemen find their places in civilian life, leaders of the time plan to speed the evacuation of Japanese prisoners of war.

Ald. Sidney Parsons, speaking for the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council advocated shorter working hours as a partial solution to the problem of the Japanese.

He pointed out that returned men should be encouraged to take up the freight traffic department, for the protection of themselves and for their trades. He insisted that every attempt should be made to give them credit for the ability they possess.

VERBAL EXCHANGE
The sessions were marked by an exchange between J. Green, speaking for the International Association of Machinists and Maj. J. Addy, of the Army, who said J. Green suggested that trained army soldiers would be able to take the effect on the railway of highway and airway competition.

His headquarters will be in Winnipeg. A similar appointment has been made for Ontario and Quebec. Born in Toronto in 1898 he joined the railway's express department in 1912 while still a student at the University of Manitoba. He enlisted during World War I and after two years in France, joined the Royal Air Force. Mr. Norman returned to the Canadian National Express and held various positions until 1926 when he transferred to the freight traffic department.

He became chief clerk to the freight traffic manager in 1942, and in January of this year was appointed special representative in the department of research and development.

A guarantee of government stability during the period of constitutional crisis was the result of the ministers apparently agreed to the plan.

Reports said a large number of the ministers were returning to the 1937 constitution with its essentially conservative two-chamber system.

Under the present bill, France will have the choice only between a single constituent assembly which the government is not responsible to, or a two-chamber system to which it is responsible.

The Socialist and Communist bloc are expected to announce the intention of their parties to ask during the constituent debate for a constituent assembly that should be elected by universal suffrage.

Reds Lift Restrictions

Allied Occupation of Vienna Would Temporarily City's Gaiety

By A. I. GOLDBERG

VIENNA, July 11.—(AP)—The coming British-American occupation of Vienna will mean a harsher existence for the Austrians than they have under the Russians, if the Allies follow the technique the Reds used in ruling western Austria.

Although the Austrians protest themselves to be disoriented by the Russian military government—principally because of the shortage of food and the Red Army practice of feeding off the countryside—yet leave Vienna wondering how the people would like decrees banning political parties, newspapers and fraternization to a point where civilians cannot mix with soldiers in movie houses.

At the moment, there is no word of knowing here what program Gen. Mark Clark intends for Austria. But if the pattern of Innsbruck, Kitzbuehl and Salzburg is followed, the Viennese will have to settle at a 9 o'clock curfew and get their news from the radio and from a weekly military government newspaper. They will be allowed to go to church or bona fide choir practices, but their religious meetings will be closely supervised.

The key is non-fraternization, and there must be nothing that smacks of political activity.

RUSSIAN SYSTEM

In the Russian mode of the picture, in Vienna the provisional cabinet functions with three communist members, and a German, a Czech, a Yugoslav, a Slovenian, a Serb, a Croat, a Bulgarian, a Rumanian, who is listed as a non-party man.

There are two daily newspapers, one Democratic and one Communist. There are 20 films shown every night and there are 10 theatres and concert halls and as many cabarets, revues and nightclubs as the Viennese mix as freely as they wish with Russian officers and soldiers.

The church bells ring in Vienna on Sunday, and in the villages on the outskirts and all along the Danube. Through St. Peter's to Linz, Austrians walk to church, prayer books under their arms and dressed in their Sunday best.

It was the same, there were daily news papers of various political faiths but the most popular alone, just a day or so ago, Budapest editors were told that the western Allies would be given the choice of withdrawing from the Danube, or staying and being treated as the Russians.

WEST CONTROL Vienna was looking in expressing sentiments that it would welcome British-American occupation in the west, but the Russians say: "We are definitely a western nation, not eastern like the Hungarians or the Slovaks."

Then, Vienna in audiences at the Philharmonic come away from performances marveling aloud: "Why, the Russians act all right. They didn't act like uncouth persons. Of course you can't blame the officers for everything done by private soldiers. Maybe we could get to like the Russians. After all they have great music and we are a musical people."

That's the way Vienna is talking these days. You tell them that the western Allies must not be asked to go to operate or concerts or operas and they stare unbelievably.

Indications Seen Leopold Decides On Future Plans

BRUSSELS, July 11.—(AP)—King Leopold summoned his brother, Regent, Prince Charles, and Belgian legislative leaders to the Baviar Villa today, creating the impression here that he may have reached a final decision on whether to abdicate.

Departure of the party was delayed by bad weather, however, and it appeared unlikely it would take off before tomorrow. Robert Gillens, president of the Chamber of Deputies, and Fran Van Cauwenbergh, president of the Chamber of Deputies, were in the group.

Drew 'Gestapo' Inquiry Hears Last Evidence

presented. Mr. Justice said he did not see how the letter could have been written from England. He still believed such a letter had been written, however, and pointed to testimony by two witnesses to support the contention.

STATEMENT OF POLICY

While in the witness box Mr. Justice said a statement of CCF principles and policy, aimed at correcting impressions which might have arisen from "any misleading statements" in evidence to the effect that his party possibly was associated with illegal or formerly illegal organizations.

In calling adjournment, Mr. Justice A. M. Label, Royal Commissioner, ruled that no further witnesses would be heard before the inquiry. The commissioner ruled against an application by Mr. Justice to recall Capt. Robert G. Osborne-Dempster, alleged Gestapo head, who had already given lengthy testimony.

Earlier Margaret Carruthers, on-time stenographer at Mr. Osborne-Dempster's international company, told the commission she had typed material dealing with trade unions and political parties and that she had copied reports at Osborne-Dempster's request and that, on his instructions, she had sent the literature from CCF Toronto headquarters.

LETTER FROM DREW

Mrs. Carruthers in earlier evidence had quoted Mr. Sanderson as saying he had received a letter from Premier Drew in connection with a label action taken against him (Sanderson) by CCF candidates in the Toronto 1945 municipal election, aftermath of Sanderson's insertion of a political cartoon in two local newspapers.

Justice said Sanderson conferred frequently with Osborne-Dempster, alleged Gestapo head, and the two before the decision to recall Sanderson was "quite happy" when action was brought against him (Sanderson) by CCF candidates in the Toronto 1945 municipal election, aftermath of Sanderson's insertion of a political cartoon in two local newspapers.

Asked if he conversed with Osborne-Dempster on his visits to Sanderson, Justice said Mr. Carruthers said he had seen Osborne-Dempster in connection with counter-espionage work, looking into subversive activities and that he had seen him in connection with the CCF, but he was not qualified to say.

Justice, Label, royal commissioner.

In concluding, Mrs. Carruthers said Osborne-Dempster had told her he had been in classes and had studied.

"Did he tell you he attended the meetings of the Volksliste?"

AVOID RECOGNITION "Yes, and he did not want to be recognized," witness replied, adding that Osborne-Dempster had claimed possession of a union card.

Questioned on Osborne-Dempster's alleged employment by Sanderson in the insect control business, witness said the former "never did any work for the firm."

She had made out cheques for Osborne-Dempster in the name of Orville Ray, but these had not been handed with those of the regular employees, and remuneration to Osborne-Dempster had not been listed with the company's claim for income tax deductions.

Mrs. Carruthers said she inferred that Sanderson was paying Osborne-Dempster for "political information."

Justice further said Sanderson had on occasion requested her to make telephone calls to Premier Drew's office and to Gladstone Murray, Toronto police counsel, and the "quack" remembered typing a letter addressed to the premier from Sanderson.

Confronted by D. J. Walker, counsel for Sanderson, Mrs. Carruthers said she had visited F. Drew Brewin "somewhat in a spirit of revenge" against Sanderson for her affidavit regarding Sanderson's relations with Osborne-Dempster.

EXHIBIT "FORGERY" James C. Sudman, office manager for Gladstone Murray, testified under questioning by Mr. Justice that he had never seen a list of 13 questions, allegedly prepared at the municipal police "special branch" office operated by Osborne-Dempster for use at a political meeting.

At this point Mr. Justice A. M. Label, royal commissioner, ordered the Aurora meeting, said that the questions were not asked called the filed exhibit listing them a "forgery."

Inspector E. D. L. Hammond of the criminal investigation branch, Ontario Provincial Police, whose testimony regarding Osborne-Dempster was in conflict with that given later by Deputy Police Commissioner H. McGrady, remounted the stand at his own request.

Hammond said that he never previously had his testimony been "impugned or maligned" on an Ontario court.

He also testified that on May 28, 1945, four days after Mr. Justice's address alleging existence of a Gestapo, he had submitted a sworn statement on his dealings with Osborne-Dempster at the request of Police Commissioner W. L. Springer. The statement, he said, substantially corroborated his evidence at the inquiry.

At this point Mr. Justice A. M. Label, royal commissioner, demanded an explanation of Commissioner Springer who, he said, had testified that the only inter-office inquiries initiated since May 11 was that of Constable John Alvin Rowe, on whose information the CCF leader based his charges.

Constable Rowe appeared briefly to answer questions in connection with his resignation May 9 from the provincial police. Other witnesses were W. G. Popin, applicant for workmen's compensation, on whom a card was filed at the appeal branch, and J. Curlew, an employee of the Sanderson extreme lefting firm.

CONTRADICTORY EVIDENCE Conflicting contradictory evidence of Miss Carruthers that the glass partition between her office and Sanderson's was unbroken, enabling her to see into the other room. Questioned by Mr. Justice, she testified that he had supplied Osborne-Dempster with information from Popin.

Lewis Duncan, CCF candidate for High Park in the June 4 provincial election, served notice on Mr. Justice Label that next Monday he would make a statement before the Ontario Court of Appeal for an order directing the commissioner to state a case on Sanderson's alleged activities.

A number of questions Mr. Duncan already submitted to the inquiry. The questions dealt with widening the scope of the commission and other matters.

A similar notice, on 12 questions, was served by J. L. Cohen, counsel for various union locals and other parties. Mr. Cohen's questions dealt with the government's terms of reference to the commission, jurisdictional matters, and proceedings at the inquiry. A definition of "subversive activities" was also asked.

Mr. Justice said that Osborne-Dempster was recalled to the witness box, but commissioner Joseph Sedgwick said the latter could not be reached at his home and it was thought he had left the city on vacation, believing his part in the inquiry was completed.

SHARP CLASH A sharp clash between Mr. Sedgwick and Mr. Cohen earlier caused Mr. Justice Label to call counsel into a 15-minute conference. Having repeatedly asserted that Mr. Cohen's cross-examination of a witness was irrelevant, Mr. Sedgwick rose to say that he was "concerned for the people of Ontario who have to live with this force."

"I am concerned that my friend (Mr. Sedgwick) has contributed so much toward making it a farce," Mr. Cohen retorted.

SENATOR INTERVENES In Death Sentences

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—Brien McMahon (Dem., Conn.) disclosed last night he has intervened in the affidavits regarding Sanderson's relations with Osborne-Dempster, a Chinese woman who wrote they were condemned to be shot for the death of a Chinese woman after an alleged attack with villagers.

Senator McMahon said he informed War Secretary Robert Patterson about it after he learned of June 14 and that Mr. Patterson had radioed to China for a complete report which is awaited.

The soldiers are: John V. Brennan, West Hartford, Conn., and Pte. James Cooper, Brennan, Ohio. Brennan's letter, an aunt delivered to Senator McMahon by the soldier's family priest, related they were court-martialed late in May and sentenced to be shot.

Brennan's letter, Senator McMahon said, told of the soldiers mounting a water buffalo at a Chinese village "intending to take a ride and have a little fun." The villagers ran after them and tried to pull them from the animal's back. The soldiers resisted but a 17-year-old woman succeeded in pulling Brennan off and he fell on her. Senator McMahon continued.

Brennan said the woman died three hours later.

New Russian Wheat and Rye Can Be Classified Perennials

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, July 11.—(HUP)—Russian scientists have developed new varieties of disease-resistant hybrid wheat and rye so hardy they can be classed as perennials, the Soviet publication, Sovetskoye Novoye, reported today.

A. Wechsler, secretary of the Soviet committee on plant breeding, in an article in the periodical, wrote that especially valuable results were obtained by crosses with wild plants.

Professor N. Taitan was credited with crossing grass to find a "promising" variety of perennial rye. Some crosses, the article continued, "open up entirely new prospects for semi-desert regions of the Soviet Union."

Other experts were credited with developing a new variety of wheat and rye which could be grown in areas of land for cultivation in the Jaffa peninsula has been planned. The area is frequently covered with salt water and at present virtually useless for agriculture.

CROSS WHEAT, RYE Professor Taitan also crossed rye with coarse grass to find a "promising" variety of perennial rye. Some crosses, the article continued, "open up entirely new prospects for semi-desert regions of the Soviet Union."

Supreme Court Decides Hear Case in Camera

VANCOUVER, July 11.—(CP)—Appeal of a Vancouver barrister from his six-month suspension from practice by the Benchers of the British Columbia Law Society will be heard in camera by five judges of the B.C. Supreme court, Chief Justice W. S. Farris announced here yesterday.

The appeal will resume Thursday following a 10-day adjournment to decide whether the press and public should hear the case. The complaint, which resulted in the barrister's suspension, which was in connection with a divorce case, was heard by the Benchers in private. It resulted in suspension for alleged unprofessional conduct.

In a press statement Tuesday Chief Justice Farris remarked on the situation caused recently by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson's exclusion two weeks ago of the press from the hearing of the Jones case in Victoria.

WAS WITHIN RIGHTS

The chief justice said Mr. Justice Manson was within his rights in barring the press if he adhered to the principle of law, as set out by Lord Shaw in 1913 and if the facts of the Jones case were such as to bring it within the principles permitting exclusion of the public. He gave three exceptions to public hearings as listed by Lord Shaw, as suits affecting wages, lunacy proceedings and secret inventions.

Referring to Mr. Justice Manson's decision Chief Justice Farris said: "The members of this tribunal do not intend to pass upon the correctness or incorrectness of the learned judge's decision in this regard but only by way of illustration it mentions the same."

It was a trial involving a will and the learned trial judge was of the opinion that an important, if not the most important, issue of the trial was the question of the mental attitude of the testator at the time of making the will. . . .

Certain letters and documents, which were found with the testator's effects after his death, containing certain admissions and statements concerning certain parties in the proceedings were admitted in evidence.

WERE NOT EVIDENCE

"These statements were not evidence of the facts in issue, and, in fact, against such party, nor were they admissible in evidence as proof of the allegations made therein. They were admitted only for the purpose of indicating the state of mind of the testator at the time of making the will."

"It can be seen at a glance that the publication of these statements might do a great injustice to the parties, and yet at the same time the production of the same might be of the greatest benefit to the court in determining the mental attitude of the testator."

"This is a factor to be taken into consideration by the judge."

"Touching on the independence of the court, the Chief Justice said: 'It is the feeling of the members of the court represented on this tribunal that judges should not enter into newspaper controversy or seek through the press or from public forums to explain and justify their acts.'"

"Nevertheless they should not hesitate from the bench to state the general law on matters of great public importance so that the public may be better informed."

"Never in history has there been greater necessity for recognition of the freedom of the courts and the freedom of the press than at the present time."

Warn of Famine

Ahead in Europe

ROME, July 11.—(Reuters)—Hert Lehman, director-general of United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, warned in a statement yesterday that widespread famine conditions would strike the Balkans and Italy next winter unless the United Nations filled the gap in food supplies. "If the liberated countries in Europe fail to prey to famine and pellence, there will be no security for any of us," he declared.

Deaf Mute Admits Killing Wife, Baby

PEABODY, Mass., July 11.—(AP)—A weeping, deaf mute, former boxer came into police headquarters today and wrote out before Desk Officer William J. Callahan, "I have just killed my wife and baby."

Police hurried to the home of the man, David Harbit, 26, and found the bodies of his young wife and infant, beaten to death. The medical examiner, Dr. J. W. P. Murphy, who accompanied Police Chief James Murphy, said the wife, Katherine, 22, also a deaf mute, and baby Carolyn, 22 months, had been struck repeatedly with a hammer found on the scene and that any one of the blows could have caused death.

The former amateur boxer, who became a leather worker in a Peabody factory, was said by police to have written a confession of the slayings during written questions and answers.

New Type Thresher

Said to Operate

15 Miles Per Hour

—The Beall Pipe and Tank Corporation yesterday announced manufacture of a threshing machine which its Oregon inventors claim can cut about 10 acres of grain an hour, compared with two acres by other types.

Fred Templeton and Ned McGinnis, the inventors, declared it can travel 12 to 15 miles an hour. When discussion can be used in its manufacture, the machine will weigh about 1,900 pounds, the inventors reported.

Templeton said the thresher will cut any grain, even in heavy dew or showers.

French Traitor

Placed on Trial

LONDON, July 11.—(Reuters)—Trial of Paul Ferdinand, the "traitor of Stuttgart," will begin in Paris Wednesday. Paris radio announced last night. Ferdinand was condemned to death in his absence by a Paris court martial in March 1940, the radio recalled. Ferdinand, who worked for the Germans long before the French collapse of 1940, was given the name of the "traitor of Stuttgart" in the first few months of the war because of his anti-French broadcasts over Stuttgart radio.

Two Million Tons

Bombs Hit Japan

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(AP)—The army air forces figured yesterday its planes have hit the Axis with 2,000,000 tons of bombs since the war began. The 2,000,000 ton was dropped Monday by the Superfortresses "Gold Leader" in the five-way Superfortresses attack on industrial cities of the Japanese home island of Honshu. The average of bombs dropped in June 1945 against all Japanese targets by the AAF was five times the 16,000 tons dropped on Japan in June, 1944.

Germans Mistreat Allied Informants

FIRST ARMY GROUP HEADQUARTERS, Germany, July 11.—(AP)—A 23-year-old German soldier was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment by a military court in Trierburg yesterday for bearing the hair off two German women whom he accused of giving information to British authorities.

The court found Lieut. Hans Pingel, who has been awaiting demobilization, guilty of leading a gang of a dozen German soldiers in a hair-cropping spree against two married women named Kusche and Schuppe, both between 35 and 40 years of age.

The women were pulled along a road by their hair and the gang leader of the gang ordered three of his men to cut off their hair which then was stuffed into the women's mouths.

Six men believed to be members of the gang were detained and five later were released when the women were unable to identify them. Pingel was identified by the women. The court also sentenced Lieut. Hans Constabel of the German navy to five years' imprisonment for aiding surrender and attempting to escape by sea in a small ship he commanded.

Tragedy Follows Losses at Races

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—(AP)—Gunplay in the downtown office of a horse racing publication Monday left three men dead, one reported.

Fatally wounded were Joe Newman, a retired boxer, Roy Walker, 67, and David V. Caplan, 44, publisher of a turf publication.

Detective Sgt. C. F. Detrich said a note was found on Newman's body which said: "I have a good reason for . . . doing this to dirty rats . . . the money they beat me out of will never do them any good."

The detective said Caplan before he died early yesterday told him "Newman shot me and then shot the other fellow and himself."

Newman's daughter, Mrs. Mamie Cohen, told police her father had lost approximately $20,000 betting on horse races.

To Civilians!

The present supply of Men's Clothing, especially Suits, is limited. In fact there's a serious shortage. As we are all under a definite obligation to those of our boys returning from the battlefields of Europe, and who are preparing to get back to civilian life, we urge all civilians to "make-do" for a few months with their present clothing. That old suit's a little frayed at the sleeves perhaps, but get it mended, get it cleaned up! You'll be surprised how good it will look and how much longer you can make it last. And think of the satisfaction of making a suit of civvies available to some boy who's been "sweating it out" in battle dress somewhere overseas. Think it over!

War Job Changes Wife; Thrown in Contact With a Class of Women She Had Never Known Before and She Has Done Her More Harm Than She Realizes

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been discharged from the army after three years' service. I got a bullet through my shoulder, but am well and strong again. Have been married for two years to a very nice girl with whom I am much in love 7 mi. S.E. of St. Louis. My family gave us a fine farm home as a wedding present. Now here's the problem: When I went in the army my wife took a job in a war plant in order to help out on labor, not because there was any need for her to earn money. She was thrown in contact with a class of women she had never known before and I am afraid they have done her more harm than she realizes. I have had a hard time making her get going up to the work and going to housekeeping with me. She also refuses to have children and wants to lead a gay life. She is a country-bred girl, but she doesn't want to go back to living on a farm and I

CATERPILLARS DO NOT ALL SPIN COCOONS IN AUTUMN

Many caterpillars spin silken cocoons in the autumn and undergo a physical transformation from their worm-like stage to the pupal stage, then in the spring emerge as butterflies or moths. But many other caterpillars do not spin in the autumn, but, like the common web caterpillar crawl away and hide in some crack over winter, and wait till spring to spin their cocoons as warm winter days these caterpillars may be seen crawling about.

Victoria Cross For Hero of 'Glowworm'

NEW YORK, July 11.—(CP)—The battle of the 1945 British destroyer Glowworm with the 1945 German cruiser Admiral Hipper which the destroyer rammed and put out of action before sinking her, has brought posthumous award of the Victoria Cross to the Glowworm's skipper, Lieut. Comdr. Gerald Broadhead Roper, the British International Service announced last night.

Lieut. Roper, the only surviving officer of the action April 4, 1945, and recently repatriated from a German prison camp, has been awarded the DSO for his "great gallantry."

The Glowworm encountered the cruiser after becoming detached from a British force while searching for a man overboard. Behind a smoke screen the raged toward the German ship, taking heavy punishment from the enemy guns. The Glowworm was hit by a shell and a machine-gun bullet, but she did not stop.

With almost all her crew wounded, the Glowworm captain and his staff were picked up by the Hipper but the captain, although severely wounded, was not among them.

The award of the Victoria Cross was the 114th of this war. Two Victoria Crosses have gone to Canadian officers.

India in a Deadlock Continues at Simla

SIMLA, India, July 11.—(Reuters)—Indian political talks were deadlocked last night on the question of nominees for the proposed revised executive council of which all the 14 seats but vice-president and commander-in-chief would be held by Indians and the balance likely to continue until the conference of political leaders resumes Saturday. The meeting was adjourned earlier in the month to permit negotiations on opposing views of the council make-up. The predominantly Hindu all-India National Congress claimed the right to nominate Muslims, a view opposed by the Muslim League.

McGill Professor Swaps Pair Pants For Old Tapestries

MONTREAL, July 11.—(CP)—Dr. Hans Boly, associate professor of histology at McGill University, here, returned from Moscow last night where he represented the Royal Society of Canada at the 25th anniversary of the Russian Academy of Sciences.

The Canadian scientist said there was so scarce in Russia that he was able to return to Canada with two pieces of valuable 17th and 18th century tapestries because he had an extra pair of pants with him.

"Dollars couldn't be changed into many rubles," he explained, "but I could," I said, "pair and bought these tapestries from an antique dealer."
